Examined by Judge Morton, he told the story he has repeated on the stand on each of his preceding trials. A number of times he fell into error in making these explanations, and was corrected by the court. The defendant denied that he ever had any other motive in bringing the mountain army to Frankfort than to show the Democratic majority of the general assembly the intense feeling of the Republican voters of the state, and said it had nothing whatever to do with the murder.

TROUBLE IS IN SIGHT

Fight to be Made in Aldermanic Board Against the Brick

The City Can Afford the Best Material, Say Some—The City Bond Question.

MORE STREET BONDS WANTED

There are likely to be two lively fights in the board of aldermen Thursday night when it holds its regular meeting. One will be over the kind of brick to be used in paving the streets, for which the contract was let last night and the other over the amount of street improvement bonds. There are a number of kinds of brick on the market and the kind selected by the committee of the whole last night stood fifth in the recent test made. Some of the aldermen claim that the city selected the brick that stood the best test a few days ago, before it was known that Contractor Terrell would not sign the contract, and there is no reason it should not do it now.

"I don't see any reason for such a change now," declared one alderman this morning. "If it was to the city's advantage to select the best brick a couple of weeks ago, it certainly is now. I think we should have the best material possible to get for the streets, and certainly will vote for it."

The board of aldermen can defeat the street proposition as it now stands by refusing to ratify the action of the committee of the whole last night in awarding the contract to Mr. Terrell and selecting the Evansville brick. The council as a separate board ratified the action of the committee of the whole, but the aldermen have not yet passed on it.

The other fight will be over the amount of street improvement bonds. The council last night fixed the amount at $60,000, which is not satisfactory to some of the aldermen. One said today:

"I shall try to have the ordinance amended and make the amount $150,000, or not less than $100,000. If we are going to build better streets it will be cheaper to build as many as possible now, and save the money wasted year after year making repairs on the gravel streets. We could do enough paving of the streets with $150,000 to make the city one of the prettiest in the county and at the same time save thousands and thousands of dollars a year that will otherwise be spent for repairs that do not last more than a few months."

PLANS COMPLETE

Committee Arranges Details of Y. M. C. A. Night School.

Prices are Fixed and Hours for Different Branches Determined.

A special meeting of the Educational committee of the Y. M. C. A. was called for last night and the details of the night school work were determined upon. The committee consists of Mr. H. S. Wells, chairman, T. F. Barton, master mechanic of the Illinois Central railroad, Mr. I. O. Walker, engineer for the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railroad, and Mr. W. E. Cochran and Mr. E. W. Bookmon. The committee ascertained that in Paducah there are about six boys between 14 and 21 years of age that need night school work where there is one that can avail himself of the day school privileges. They decided to shape the work of the association night school as far as possible toward industrial branches, and this year will present mechanical, freehand and architectural drawing and telegraphy in addition to common school and business college subjects. The instructors and fees adopted are as follows:

Miss E. T. Mattingly, instructor in shorthand and typewriting (fee $2.50 per month) and bookkeeping ($2.50 per month); each subject coming four nights per week. Mr. Otto D. Schmidt, instructor in mechanical, freehand and architectural drawing, two nights per week and two hours per night (fee $6.00 per three months term.) Mr. Leroy Lightfoot, instructor in mandolin and guitar two nights per week (fee $2.50 per course of twelve lessons). Mr. W. D. Deakins, of the N. C. and St. L., instructor in telegraphy, four nights per week, (fee $15 per six months course). The instructor in arithmetic, penmanship and business English was not chosen, but it was decided to have these subjects each two nights per week, (fee $2.00 per term of three months.)

The business college branches will open on September 14th and work in all the other subjects will open September 28th.

HEAD ENDER

Engine and Box Cars Mix up in the I. C. Yards

Some Damage Done, But no One was Injured.

There was a small freight wreck on the Louisville division of the Illinois Central a few hundred yards east of the depot here this morning about 11:20 o'clock.

A switch engine, No. 1565, pushing ten cars was coming from the coal tipples towards the depot. When the curve was reached engine No. 601 was backing down the main line en route to Gravel Switch for gravel and backed into the switch engine. The engineer on the switch engine claims he saw the other engine coming but supposed the engineer would stop. When the crews saw the approaching accident they all jumped and escaped injury.

Engine No. 601 was in charge of Engineer E. Bean and Fireman C. E. Brock and the switch engine Engineer Moore, Fireman Crawley and Foreman John Rail. The tank of the No. 601 was badly smashed and several coal cars wrecked and derailed. Another switch engine was procured and shoved the cars off the track. The rails were cleared in three quarters of an hour after the wreck had occurred and no delay was caused the fast noon passenger train which came in late and after the wreck had been cleared.

Young women will also be admitted to the business classes.

SOLDIERS ENLISTED

AND LEFT ON THE MORNING TRAIN FOR LOUISVILLE.

Major R. D. Read of Louisville, visited the local recruiting office last night and enlisted three recruits received last week. They were: Fairfax F. Craig, John T. Thompson and Uriel L. Bearden. The officer and the recruits went to Louisville early this morning.

INSTRUCTOR NAMED

Mr. Clarence Burlingame, of Rockford, Ill., Chosen.

Y. M. C. A. Directors to Hold a Meeting to Tender the Place.

NEW MAN IS EXPERIENCED ONE

Secretary Stuart B. Hanna, of the Y. M. C. A., received a letter this morning from Mr. Clarence H. C. Burlingame, of Rockford, Ill., signifying his willingness to accept the position of physical instructor of the local association, made vacant by the resignation of Mr. B. L. Mattnis. A meeting of the board will be called at once to formally tender the place to Mr. Burlingame.

He has had three years experience in association work, including the boys physical departments. He was the first boys secretary for the Rockford association, in which department there are now 427 boys. Later he became physical director of the Rockford association and last year upon the resignation of the physical director had upon him the entire responsibility of the physical department. Mr. Burlingame has spent three seasons at the Lake Geneva Training school and has excelled in the athletic competitions of that well known athletic center. For several summers he has held the record for the 100 yard swimming dash and this summer he broke the record for the two mile swim across the lake, lowering it from 53 to 49 minutes 20 seconds.

He is proficient in both athletics and gymnastics.

He has had also considerable newspaper experience, having been connected with the Register-Gazette of Rockford. If called Mr. Burlingame will reach Paducah about September 10. The class work in the physical department will open about the fourth week in September.

TO ORGANIZE ALUMNA.

MISS LELIA CALHOUN, OF OXFORD COLLEGE, NOW IN THE CITY.

Miss Lelia Calhoun, of Owensboro, Ky., financial secretary of the girls college in Oxford, O., and in charge of the work in Kentucky, is at the Palmer house on business connected with the college. This college is one of the largest and most popular in the country, and more Kentucky girls have graduated from it than from any other college in the country.

Miss Lula Reed, of Paducah, is a graduate of it, and many of Louisville's most prominent women attended it.

Miss Calhoun, who is a sister of Capt. C. C. Calhoun, of Frankfort, is now arranging for a meeting and banquet at the Louisville Hotel, Louisville, about October 1 for the purpose of organizing a state alumna of the college graduates and in addition to many of the most prominent young ladies of Kentucky, there will be several prominent women from other states present.

It is thought that fully 100 will be in attendance. Among them will be Mrs. Gath, of Hamilton, O., president of the national alumna of the college, Miss Fannie Ruth Robinson, president of the college, and Mrs. Durbin, wife of Indiana's governor.

It is probable there will be several present from this end of the state, and a very pleasant time is anticipated.

MRS. BINFORD DIES.

FULTON WOMAN SUCCUMBED AFTER OPERATION.

Mrs. Charles Binford, of Fulton, who was shot accidentally by her husband some time ago, being mistaken for a burglar, died this afternoon. An operation was performed on her last night to locate the bullet, and she never recovered from the shock. She had been holding her own fairly well until the operation became necessary. She was one of the most popular young women of Fulton and there is great sorrow over her death.

ABOUT THE CITY HALL

Colored Porter Arrested This Morning for Grand Larceny

Two Watches Reported Missing to the Police This Morning Early.

NEGRO CULPRITS ESCAPE

Lee Atkins, colored, who had been employed at Weille's, was arrested today on a charge of grand larceny. He lives at Eighth and Boyd streets and was suspected of having carried goods away from the store. A search warrant was procured and quite a quantity of the goods were found, enough to justify the charge of grand larceny. The case was called today in Judge Sanders' court and continued.

Cal Hinton was fined $10 and costs for violation of the Sabbath.

A breach of the peace case against Richard Milliken was dismissed.

Dickey Dixon was fined $5 and costs for using insulting language.

An unknown man, white, who said he had no name, was fined $1 and cost for drunkenness.

Patrol Driver John Austin was called to a stable near the furniture factory on South Third street with the patrol wagon this morning at an early hour by the information that two negroes who slept there had committed a nameless offense. He went there after them, but they had made good their escape. The charge would have been a felony and the police are still searching for the men.

W. J. Murphy, of Fulton, Ky., reported at police headquarters this morning that his watch was stolen from him last night at a West Broadway saloon while he was asleep. It was gold and quite valuable, and the police have been able to secure no clue to its whereabouts.

The captain on the United States steamer Lookout, which has been at the wharf for the past few days, reported to the police this morning that his fine $125 watch had been lost or stolen. It has been missing for several days and the captain thinks he lost it somewhere.

WILL REDECORATE

CONTRACT LET TO MR CHARLES WARREN FOR KENTUCKY-BUILDING NEWS

The contract for re-decorating the Kentucky theater was let this morning to Mr. Charles Warren, the well known painter, and will amount to about $300. The work will not require long, as the theater is not badly in need of fresh decorations.

Dr. Joe Gardner today opened his new drug store at Fifth and Jackson streets. He also has a store at Third and Tennessee.

The plans for the Elks building will be completed in a few days, and probably be ready to submit to the committee by Architect Davis before next week's meeting.

Mr. Charles Trueheart has purchased from Mr. J. W. McKnight the old McKnight homestead on Broadway adjoining the Catholic church for 10,000. Mr. Trueheart, it is understood, will some time soon erect a fine building on the property.

ICE BROKE THROUGH

NARROW ESCAPE OF MR. RANKIN KIRKLAND THIS MORNING.

This morning about 8 o'clock Mr. Rankin Kirkland, of the American-German National bank, was at work at his desk when something struck the heavy glass skylight above him and descending like greased lightning grazed his nose.

He jumped quickly and saw a huge cake of ice hit the floor and fly in all directions. It had fallen from the third story window, where it was placed to be washed, and striking the skylight demolished a portion of it. Mr. Kirkland's escape was indeed narrow, but fortunately he was not injured.

WHEN BABY IS COMING USE Mother's Friend

Woman's greatest dream of beauty and glory is when nature has chosen her to become a mother. Every faculty is keenly alert as she foresees the joy, ambition, success and the life-long satisfaction coming nearer, day by day, in the dear and innocent being so soon to see light, and the uncertainty whether she shall see a sweet girl or a brave boy face beside her on the pillow adds zest to her expectancy.

Mother's Friend applied externally throughout pregnancy will relieve the pain of parturition, and no mother and child can fail to be healthy, hearty, strong, clear complexioned, pure blooded and cheerful in disposition, who are mutually influenced by the continued use of this great liniment, MOTHER'S FRIEND.

BOILED OUT

NEGRO HOBOS NOW KNOW BETTER THAN TO RIDE ON ENGINES.

Two negroes who were stealing a ride on the Fulton accommodation train last night were painfully surprised before they had gone many miles and will hereafter steer clear of engines when they want to steal rides.

The negroes had secreted themselves on the tender of the engine and were hidden from view by the huge pile of coal. The fireman secured these and turned on the water, which comes direct from the boiler and is scalding hot, to wet down the coal. The dust from the coal flies into the engine and firemen's eyes when running and this precaution is always taken just as the engine starts. The negroes did not foresee such action and were soaked with the boiling water before they knew what had happened. When the water struck them they gave one great yell and bounded over the tender and onto the front end of the "blind baggage." The fireman did not know what had happened but turned off the water and went on a tour of investigation. The negroes got off at Mayfield and have probably been thoroughly cured of the "engine habit."

Messrs. Will Sanders, Joe Exall, Frank Davis and Dr. Vernon Blythe left today for Cerulean Springs to remain the balance of this week.

IS AWARDED AGAIN

Contract for Paving the Streets Let by Council.

Mr. E. C. Terrell Gets it Again—Court Street to Get New Name.

OTHER BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS

The council met in regular session last night with Mayor Yeiser acting as clerk, Clerk Patterson being on the sick list. The council began business shortly after 7 o'clock and remained in session until after 12 o'clock.

The action of Mayor Yeiser in making a contract with George Bernard by which appraisers will value his property on West Broadway, wanted by the city in opening a street, was ratified.

Contractor E. C. Terrell was awarded the contract for grading and graveling Hayes avenue at 69 cents. Contractor Ed Eaker was the next lowest bidder, his bid being 79 cents.

The city engineer was ordered to give Contractor Terrell the grade on Tenth street from Terrell's line to the city limits so the contractor can begin work on the street.

An invitation from the unions to participate in the Labor day parade was accepted.

The matter of placing a fire alarm box on bridge street was referred to the fire committee.

The compromise grade for paving North Second street from Broadway to Jefferson was accepted by the council. The grade of the Lagomarsino hotel pavement was not taken, the other property owners agreeing to pay the extra cost to have the grade raised.

Mayor Yeiser was authorized to appoint appraisers for property on Husbands street, from Third to Fourth, where a street will be opened.

The purchase of a belt for the city electric light plant for $204 was ratified.

Henry Seamon was ordered to remove a building on an alley, the board threatening to resort to the law if it was not done.

It was decided to warrant all corporations and persons tearing up alleys and streets and not placing them in good condition again.

The request for a light at the entrance to Oak Grove was referred.

The council then adjourned to meet as a committee of the whole with the aldermen and consider the street improvement matter.

The committee of the whole was called together immediately after the temporary adjournment of the council with all members present except Aldermen Kirchoff and Riggsberger.

Chairman Hannan stated that the committee had met and opened bids yesterday afternoon, finding that of E. C. Terrells the lowest, his bid being for $20.6 and $2.02 for street without car tracks and for street with car tracks.

There was much arguing as to what kind of brick would be used, the committee finally deciding to use Evansville brick and the contract was awarded to Contractor Terrell.

The council reconvened and resumed its regular business.

The regular accounts against the city and the salaries of the municipal authorities were allowed.

The following ordinances were acted on:

Ordinance compelling residents in the district where streets are to be paved to put in new gas and water pipes. First passage given.

Ordinance for the issue of $60,000 worth of street improvement bonds at not more than 4 per cent. First passage.

Ordinance for the issue of $25,000 bond for new market house and $25,000 bonds for new city hospital. First passage. The bond issue will be placed before the public and before the bonds can be issued will have to receive a two-thirds vote.

An ordinance compelling merchants who come here with a fire sale or bankrupt stock to dispose of pay a $500 license, was killed. This ordinance was drawn up to protect local merchants. The fire stock merchants come around after the assessor has inspected and the inspector collected license and get out of paying license for their full stock.

Ordinance amending ordinance providing for which fund the license taxes collected be placed in.

Ordinance extending the sewerage system from Ninth between Tennessee and Jones streets to an alley between Jones and Norton and then to an alley on Tenth street between Jones and Norton street. First passage given.

Ordinance providing for improving Jefferson street to 21st street given first passage.

Ordinance providing for grading and graveling Clark street between Ninth and Tenth given first passage.

Ordinance for improving alley between 11th and 12th, Jackson and Ohio street given first passage.

Ordinance to abolish office of city solicitor and place his duties among those of the city attorney at a salary of $2,000 per annum. Ordinance lost.

The water company was ordered to extend mains on Tenth street north to Boyd.

Several deeds to lots in Oak Grove were ratified.

The saloon license of Baker & Elrod was transferred to Story and Elrod and the license of J. D. Overstreet transferred from 818 Boyd street to 900 North Eighth street.

The action of the committee of the whole in awarding Contractor Terrell the street improvement work, was ratified.

The board decided not to pay the city attorney's salary monthly instead of every three months as the marshal does not report commissions oftener than every three months.

The street inspector was ordered to build a box bottom to a gutter at Third and Tennessee street, the lumber to be furnished by Mr. Henry Peter.

The question of extending the sewerage system on Tennessee street between Third and Fourth to Norton street was referred to the engineer. It is reported that the grade will not be correct, the contractor having allowed too much fall at each manhole and if the present grade be carried out the water will not have fall enough to carry off the sewerage.

Engineer Washington was ordered to furnish estimates on cost of repairing gutters on Court between First and Third street, where stagnant water stands.

Five hundred and eighty dollars was allowed for placing piling along the levee front to better the wharfage facilities in high water time.

The request from Councilman Fowler to have an ordinance brought in changing the name of Court to Kentucky street was favorably acted on.

On motion the board adjourned.

"KENTUCKY DAY"

WORLD'S FAIR OFFICIALS WANT TO GIVE ONE ENTIRE DAY OVER TO THE BLUE-GRASS STATE.

What was the greatest day in Kentucky's history?

The officials of the Louisiana Purchase exposition to be held in St. Louis next year want to set aside one day to be known as "Kentucky Day" and have invited the Kentucky Exhibit association, which is raising the funds by private appropriation, for the state building and display of products and resources, to fix the date.

The association is anxious to name a day that will be surrounded by associations which appeal to a majority of Kentuckians and calls on every citizen interested to make a suggestion. All communications on the subject should be addressed to Secretary R. E. Hughes, Louisville.

Exercises in keeping with the occasion will be conducted at the Kentucky building at the world's fair on whatever day is named as "Kentucky day." The Exhibit association is to be influenced by the opinion of a majority of Kentuckians in the matter and will appreciate and welcome all suggestions.

NO POISON

R. E. WALKER DIED A NATURAL DEATH AT UNION CITY.

Union City, August 18—The coroner's jury in the inquest over the body of R. E. Walker returned a verdict to the effect that Mr. Walker came to his death from some unknown cause.

Dr. LeRoy, the expert chemist employed jointly by Mrs. Walker and the insurance companies which had issued policies to the extent of $30,000 upon Walker's life, to analyze the body, testified that he had made a thorough analysis and had found no unnatural cause for death.

DIED AT RIPE OLD AGE.

Cincinnati, August 18—Mrs. Sophia Lloyd, aged 83, mother of John Uri Lloyd, the author, died of heart failure. She once lived at "Stringtown on the Pike."

PADUCAH'S DISPLAY

Encouraging Outlook For This Section at St. Louis Fair.

Secretary Hughes Well Pleased—Exhibits to be Made by Local Concerns.

MAYFIELD ALSO DOES WELL.

The visit of Secretary R. E. Hughes of Louisville, of the Kentucky Exhibit Association, to Paducah and Mayfield last week to awaken deeper interest in Kentucky's display at the World's Fair in St. Louis next year resulted in about $1,000 being added to the fund and the promise of something like an additional $500.

The water company is expected to contribute $100, as is the Paducah Furniture Manufacturing company, of which Mr. Ed Woolfolk, the director of the association for this end of the state, is president. The two tobacco warehouse companies are to bring the matter before their directors for action, and possibly $50 will come from each, as the dark type of tobacco in Kentucky finds its highest perfection in this section. Mr. Verne J. Blow, president of the Paducah Co-operative company, one of the largest concerns of the kind in the country, is a member of the association's lumber committee, but was out of the city while the secretary was here, and the subscription of his concern will not be forthcoming until his return. The knitting mills and several other large corporations will make donations as soon as authorized by their boards. Individual subscriptions yet to be made will doubtless run the Paducah figure to at least $1,300.

In Mayfield the following subscriptions were made:

Exchange bank	$25.00
First National Bank	50.00
Graves County Bank & Trust Co	25.00
Lochridge & Ridgway	2.50
Mayfield Lumber Co	5.00
W. E. Norman	2.50
Gardner, Green & Co	2.50
J. M. Gillum	2.50

The two pants factories here are expected to subscribe at least $25 each and the two tobacco warehouses will doubtless follow suit. The woolen mills are expected to make a subscription. All these concerns are corporations, and final action must be taken by their boards. Judge D. B. Stanfield, president of the City National bank, and J. M. Gillum, president of the Farmers' National bank, are to bring the matter up before their respective directors at their next meeting. The S. J. Pegram Tobacco Manufacturing company is considering the advisability of making an exhibit of the product of its factory, and it will also probably subscribe to the fund.

The Smith & Scott Tobacco company of Paducah is expected to make a very creditable display.

Mr. W. U. Grider, the field representative of the association, paid McCracken and Graves counties a visit some time ago and secured the promise of fine displays of the clays and pottery wares as well as the bricks of the two counties.

Mr. Charles D. Campbell, of the Tobacco Exhibit committee of the association, was also at Paducah and Mayfield a short time ago and enlisted the hearty support of the tobacco men at both places. The Paducah and Mayfield district will furnish the dark tobacco samples out of which will be formed the stems represented in the mammoth eighty-two-foot leaf made from 20,000 samples, to be the central figure in the Kentucky tobacco display at the Exposition.

FREE FACE BLEACH FOR COMPLEXION

I WILL SEND FREE TRIAL BOTTLE OF MY FACE BLEACH TO ANY LADY SENDING NAME AND ADDRESS.

MME. A. RUPPERT, 6 E 14TH ST., New York City

How to Obtain a Lovely

COMPLEXION

Clear and Beautiful

It is every woman's duty to be as youthful and good looking as possible, and there is nothing which adds more beauty than a lovely complexion, and there is no remedy which will restore the complexion and give one that youthful appearance like Mme. A. Ruppert's World Renowned Face Bleach. This grand remedy clears the skin of every discoloration, and impurities, including pimples, freckles, moth patches, brown spots, liver marks, comedones, flesh-worms, blackheads, oiliness, sallowness, muddiness and skin diseases. It accomplishes these wonderful effects by drawing the impurities and discolorations to the surface of the skin and then removing these blemishes by gradually scaling off a slight surface of the outer scarfskin. It does this in so natural a manner as to be entirely harmless to the most delicate complexion, and, having this action, it cannot fail to produce excellent effects.

Most marvelous results are obtained when Face Bleach is used according to my new Special Directions in conjunction with my Egyptian Balm, which nourishes and feeds the tissues and glands of the skin, and adds the finishing touch which refines, purifies and preserves the skin in its pristine splendor, giving it the glow of youth.

Now, in order that every lady reader of this paper may obtain the highest possible effect from the use of my preparations, I will make the following stupendous offer to all callers at the below address. A bottle of my Face Bleach, a trial jar of my Egyptian Balm, a bar of my most exquisite Almond Oil Complexion Soap, my new Special Directions, my book, "How to BE BEAUTIFUL"—all for $2. The price of Face Bleach alone is $2 per bottle, hence you receive articles absolutely free.

MORE NEW BANKS

More Quietude Prevailed Last Week.

A Number of Interesting Matters Reported in Banking Circles.

The past week has been very quiet in banking circles and there have been no new banks organized for which arrangements had not been made. Even in the country towns the depression in New York had its effect, and put a damper on the plans for a number of new banks which had been arranged for.

W. T. Lowe is at the head of the movement to organize a new bank at Dublin.

H. Y. Davis has been elected president of the new bank at Rocky Hill.

A new bank, to be known as the Farmers' bank, at Birdsville, has been organized with a capital of $15,000.

The Covington Trust company has been succeeded by the Covington Savings bank and Trust company. J. P. Ernst is president; J. H. Simpson, vice president and C. W. Simrall, secretary and treasurer.

The Calhoun Deposit bank has been organized and will begin business about October 1. J. H. Miller is to be president and C. H. Ellis cashier.

The bank of Birmingham has been organized with a capital of $15,000, and will begin business October 1. Officers are O. H. Smith, president; R. B. Coffman, vice president; D. M. Hoeker, cashier.

The Glendale Banking company reports a paid up capital of $10,000.

The Bank of Lowes, at Lowes, has been organized with $15,000 capital stock.

The Bank of Willard, at Willard, has been organized with $15,000 capital.

The Pikesville National bank has been organized with a capital of $25,000. J. E. Yost is president; J. S. Oline, vice president and Fon Rogers, cashier.

The Bank of Middleboro has been organized with a capital of $15,000. J. R. Gilliam, of Lynchburg, Va., is president; C. W. Metcalfe, vice president; A. J. Miller, Radford, Va., cashier.

The Verona bank, capital $15,000, has been chartered to do business at Verona. The incorporators are W. T. S. Blackburn, of Dry Ridge; Joseph Glasscock, Williamstown, and O. K. Whitson, of Verona.

COMMITTEE TO MEET

DEMOCRATS STILL IN A QUANDARY ABOUT WHAT TO DO.

The county Democratic committee will be called together in a few days by Chairman Morrison to further consider the commonwealth's attorney muddle. There is a disposition on part of some of the members to declare Mr. L. K. Taylor the Democratic nominee in this county and place his name under the Democratic device, in which event there would be one candidate in this county and one in Marshall county.

Engineer Frank Harris, of Little Rock, Ark., is here visiting his mother, Mrs. M. E. Harris, of South Fifth street.

HE'S ALL ALONE

Jeffries Sad Because There are no More World's to Conquer

Marvin Hart, a Kentucky Pugilist, May try for Championship.

Jeffries is now left alone, says one of the sporting editors. There is no one for him to fight. In all the world no man exists who would be conceded a chance with him, and perhaps not a man who would be even offered a match with him. Othello's occupation's gone. The giant can show himself behind the footlights, and that is all. When the public tires of seeing him, what can he do? Won't some young, strong heavyweight please rise up and show himself good enough for a match with Jeffries, so that the poor giant won't have to go penniless through his own superiority?

This is indeed sad, but there are plenty of people willing to pay a dollar or two just to see the big bully. Marvin Hart, a Louisville pugilist, wants to train for a try at the championship. He is in the heavyweight class and is said to be quite clever.

KILLED A COMPANION.

Hopkinsville, Ky., August 18—James Hart, a youth, whose home is near Herndon, in this county, was arrested and lodged in jail here charged with the murder of Jopias White, another youth. The boys had been working together, but Hart claims he was afraid White would kill him, so he borrowed a pistol, hunted White up and shot him.

Justice R. J. Barber left this morning for Cerulean Springs, where his daughter, Mrs. Jack Flynn, of New Orleans, is spending a few weeks.

FAIR EXCHANGE

A NEW BACK FOR AN OLD ONE—HOW IT IS DONE IN PADUCAH.

The back aches at times with a dull, indescribable feeling, making you weary and restless; piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, and again the loins are so lame to stoop is agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back in this condition. You cannot reach the cause. Exchange the bad back for a new and stronger one. Follow the example of this Paducah citizen:

R. K. Tilley, of 400 South Third street, tobacco packer with the Alliance & Veal Tobacco Co., on North Third street, says:

"An aching back to a tobacco packer is not only a nuisance but it keeps him in misery. Despite all my efforts to cure mine by using household remedies and trying treatments guaranteed by friends and acquaintances I was unable to check it, let alone cure it until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at DuBois Co.'s drug store on Broadway. The first box gave such satisfaction that I bought a second. To say I endorse Doan's Kidney Pills mildly expresses my opinion of that remedy."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

HIGH-SALARIED MEN

STANDARD OIL SOLICITOR RECEIVES $250,000 A YEAR.

(From the Philadelphia Ledger.) A. J. Cassatt, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, draws the largest salary of any railroad official in the United States. He is credited with receiving $75,000 a year. A number of other railroad presidents receive $50,000 a year each.

In the matter of salaries the industrial appear to be more liberal than the railroads. S. O. T. Dodd, the general solicitor of the Standard Oil company, probably receives as large a salary as any other person in the country. Including commissions, he is understood to receive $250,000 a year. It is not known what the salary of John D. Rockefeller, the president of the Standard Oil company, amounts to. If there is any other person in the United States who receives as large a salary as Mr. Dodd it is not generally known.

Charles M. Schwab, president of the United States Steel corporation, drew a salary of $100,000 a year. There are twelve other persons in the employ of the United States Steel corporation who receive a salary of more than $20,000 a year. S. B. Callaway, president of the American Locomotive company, is credited with receiving a salary of $100,000 a year. To accept the position Mr. Callaway resigned the presidency of the New York Central. As the head of the New York Central he drew $40,000 a year.

It is not known what the salary of Henry H. Rogers, president of the Amalgamated Copper Co., is. Mr. Rogers succeeded Marcus Daly, who received $100,000. It is thought that Mr. Rogers receives a larger salary. Henry O. Havemeyer, president of the American Sugar Refining company, is said to draw a salary of $100,000 a year. C. A. Coffin, president of the General Electric, is understood to receive $75,000 a year.

The largest salary paid any bank president in the country is understood to be $50,000 a year. Several New York bank presidents are known to receive this salary. There is one bank president in Chicago who is also said to draw a salary of $50,000 a year. As a rule, bank presidents are very wealthy, and their salary forms only a small part of their income. George F. Baker, president of the First National bank, is believed to be worth more than $30,000,000. James Stillman, president of the National City bank, is worth $12,000,000. Most of the other presidents of large Wall street banks are millionaires.

ARMORED VEST

ONE SUCCESSFULLY TRIED IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, Ill., August 18—Up in the squadron of the Desplaines street station a big policeman pulled his revolver from his hip pocket, took deliberate aim at a man standing at the end of the room and fired.

The man did not drop dead, but turned a smiling face at his adversary, who then fired three more shots in rapid succession. Like the first, they all landed harmlessly. Half a dozen officers in the room looked on with deep interest during the shooting and one of them said: "You wouldn't catch me taking a chance like that, bullet-proof vest or not. There might be a hole in it some place."

A bullet-proof vest invented by Casimir Zieglen stopped the leaden missiles. The vest is guaranteed to stop a Colt's 44-caliber bullet at 20 paces. It was being tested for the edification of the police officers, who get into close quarters now and then, where a bullet-proof shield would be useful. The vest is made by a secret process and resembles a heavy quilted silk cloth. It stops the bullets, however, and the man who wears it scarcely feels the impact of the missile.

PASSED IN THE RACE.

"Alas!" said the unhappy woman, "and we were once considered wealthy!"

"But, my dear," said her husband, soothingly, "we have as much money as ever."

"Oh, yes, I know, but there are so many who have a lot more than nobody pays any attention to us any longer!"—Brooklyn Life.

Almost Like the Trusts.

The proposition of the Queen Dowager of China to seize the telegraph system and recompense the shareholders by granting them decorations and orders is a new wrinkle in high finance. James the First of England created the title of baronet in order to raise money, but the distinction was sold for cash to willing buyers, which is an important difference.

A WORM KILLER.

J. A. J. Montgomery, Paxico, Wayne county, Mo., writes: "I have little twin girls, who have been bothered with worms all their lives. I tried everything to relieve them, which failed until I used White's Cream Vermifuge; the first two doses brought four worms from one of them; the next two doses, twelve, one of them measuring twelve inches; the other child was only relieved of four worms. It is a most excellent medicine." White's Cream Vermifuge is good for children. It not only destroys worms, it helps the child to perfect growth, wards off sickness. 25c at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

Fifty Years a Teacher.

Charles J. Capen, senior master of the Boston Latin school, has been a teacher in that institution for fifty years. Last week his friends presented the school with a handsome portrait in oil of the veteran instructor. While Mr. Capen's record is remarkable, that of Miss Harriet Caryl of the same school is more so. Miss Caryl entered the high school as a pupil in 1852, the year the institution was founded, and three years later became a teacher. She has remained in that position continuously ever since.

PHYSICIAN AND DRUGGISTS.

Ferd Sturgeon, a prominent drug firm at Rocky Hill Station, Ky., writes: "We were requested by Dr. G. B. Snigley to send for Herbine for the benefit of our customers. We ordered three dozen in December, and we are glad to say Herbine has given such great satisfaction that we have duplicated this order three times, and today we gave our salesman another order. We beg to say Dr. G. B. Snigley takes pleasure in recommending Herbine." 50c bottle at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

Zurich Cleared of Bad Characters.

As a result of the introduction of the Bertillon system by the Zurich police the town has practically cleared out all its bad characters. Even tramps give the place a wide berth, for as soon as a person is arrested he is photographed and his measurements taken, even if the charge is not serious. Of late the police have had so little to do that there is talk of reducing the number of the force. So few crimes are committed in the town that Zurich is considered to be the most moral town in Switzerland.

WATCH FOR A CHILL.

However slight at this time of the year and in this climate, it is the forerunner of malaria. A disposition to yawn and an all-tired-out feeling even comes before the chill. Herbine, by its prompt stimulative action on the liver, drives the malarial germs out of the system, purifies the blood, tones up the system and restores health. 50c at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

First of Rhodes' Scholarships.

The Tablet announces that the first two scholarships at Oxford granted under the terms of Mr. Rhodes' will have just been awarded by the government of Rhodesia. Both of the new scholars are Roman Catholics and students of the Jesuit college at Bulawayo. In a letter announcing the nominations Lord Grey pays a high tribute to the importance of the work which the Jesuit fathers have done in Rhodesia among both whites and blacks.

A Touching Incident Indeed.

The Japan Times reports a remarkable case of the engineer being hoist with his own petard. Our esteemed contemporary says: "Two convicts were executed at the Ichigaya prison on Wednesday. One of them, Matsutaro Sohtome, was a carpenter, and said while climbing up to the guillotine that it had been built by himself during his previous service at the prison some years ago for the offense of larceny. He was much touched by this strange incident." Who would not be?

Got a Line on His Age.

Col. Phil Thompson prides himself justly upon being an exceedingly well-preserved man. As such he naturally dislikes to have his age made public. At the Waldorf one night last week, however, some one, leaning over, said to one of Phil's intimate friends:

"How old is Thompson, anyway?" "I don't know Phil's age exactly," replied the friend, "but I can tell you the age of his twin brother John. He is fifty-seven."—New York Times.

CURED PARALYSIS.

W. S. Baily, P. O. True, Texas, writes: "My wife had been suffering five years with paralysis in her arm, when I was persuaded to use Ballard's Snow Liniment, which cured her all right. I have also used it for old sores, frost bites and skin eruptions. It does the work." 25c, 50c and $1 bottles at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

Who Wrote "Dixie"?

Will S. Hays of Louisville claims to be the author of "Dixie." He was assisted, he says, by Charles L. Ward and David P. Fylds, recently deceased, published the song. The authorship of this popular southern melody has been in dispute for many years.

The first sidewheel steamer, Sultana, was commanded by Captain Horace Pease and ran in the Louisville and New Orleans and other southern trades when the river was too low for her to run in the Ohio. She was the first boat with a piano in her cabin, and great crowds went on board to see it. The Sultana and Marie met in a collision in '49 at the foot of Natchez island, a few miles below the town of Natchez, and the Sultana was sunk. The late John Gault, of Louisville, was engineer on the Sultana, and Engineer Jack Wilson, of Louisville, and father of Captain George H. Wilson, was "greaser" on her.

WONT MIX

BAD FOOD AND GOOD HEALTH WONT MIX.

The human stomach stands much abuse but it wont return good health if you give it bad food.

If you feed right you will feel right for proper food and a good mind is the sure road to health. "A year ago I became much alarmed about my health for I began to suffer after each meal no matter how little I ate," says a Denver woman: "I lost my appetite and the very thought of food grew distasteful, with the result that I was not nourished and got weak and thin. My home cares were very heavy for beside a large family of my own I have also to look out for an aged mother. There was no one to shoulder my household burdens and come what might I must bear them and this thought nearly drove me frantic when I realized that my health was breaking down."

"I read an article in the paper about some one with trouble just like mine being cured on the food Grape Nuts and acting on this suggestion I gave Grape Nuts a trial. The first dish of this delicious food told me I had struck the right thing. My uncomfortable feelings in stomach and brain disappeared as if by magic and in an incredibly short space of time I was again myself. Since then I have gained 13 pounds in weight through a summer of hard work and realize I am a very different woman, all due to the splendid food Grape Nuts." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Trial will prove.

Senator Pettus' Cheap Seat.

Senator Pettus of Alabama the other day disproved the prevailing theory that all seats in the United States Senate are expensive and that that body is altogether a millionaire's club. He sent to the secretary of state of Alabama the sum of $1 in a postal note to cover the entire expenses for his recent unanimous election. This sum represents the fee of the secretary of state for his services. So far as known this is a record in the minimum price for seats in the Sen.

AN AGED LADY FALLS

Mrs. Sarah Ballowe Badly Hurt This Morning.

Attempted to Get Off the Illinois Central Excursion Train, Which She Thought Would Stop.

SHE MAY, NOT RECOVER

Mrs. Sarah Ballowe, an aged lady of 333 South Third street, was seriously and if not fatally injured this morning shortly after 9 o'clock near the Cohankus Mfg Co. by falling from the Illinois Central excursion train.

Mrs. Ballowe boarded the train at the passenger depot with Mrs. G. W. Gibony, of Richmond, Va., who had been visiting her here, and was en route to Chicago. She thought the train made two stops at the Broadway crossing and the freight depot and remained aboard, but the train made only one stop, at the Broadway crossing.

When she saw the train did not take the freight tracks but went around the curve with increased speed towards the Cairo division she went out on the platform and attempted to step off the train, it is thought, and struck on her back and head. Her head was cut badly, just below the left ear there is a slight fracture of the skull and she is probably internally injured although the physicians could find no outward indications in any of the cuts or bruises. The patient was taken home and Dr. Murrell, chief surgeon of the I. C., and Dr. H. P. Sights were summoned to dress the wounds.

The physicians made a thorough examination and think she is injured only about the head. Mrs. Ballowe was rendered unconscious when she fell and remained in a semi-conscious state the remainder of the day. She is suffering a great deal from concussion but improved slightly under medical treatment. She is well known here and has many friends who will regret to learn of the accident. She is about 55 years of age.

About noon today Mrs. Ballowe's condition took a turn for the worst and was at press time regarded as critical. Owing to her age it is feared she will not recover.

Mr. Mike Kelley, of Gulfport, Miss. is in the city visiting.

SOUNDS A KEY-NOTE.

President Ford's Speech Before Commercial Convention.

KENTUCKY MUST FORGE TO FRONT.

World's Fair at St. Louis Next Year Offers the State the Opportunity of a Century to Show All the People of the Earth What She Really Is.

During the recent State Commercial convention held in Louisville, one session was devoted exclusively to the work being done by the Kentucky Exhibit Association for adequate representation of the state at the World's Fair in St. Louis. The speech delivered by the President of the Association, Mr. A. Y. Ford, managing editor of the Courier-Journal, was "so full of eloquent facts, so eloquently spoken," as Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge expressed it later in the evening, that we have decided to give it to our readers. In part it is as follows:

The movement for a creditable representation of Kentucky at the great World's Fair, which is to mark the Centenary of the Purchase of the Louisiana Territory, appeals both to business interest and to patriotic sentiment.

It appeals to business interests, because no community more than Kentucky needs to have itself properly advertised to the world, not only for the correction of that false reputation which it has been brought by persistent and long-continued misrepresentation, but because, at this juncture in the material development of the country, it finds an unusual opportunity and a pressing necessity to demonstrate to the world of capital and of homeseekers the superior advantages which it offers as an undeveloped State, in which all the essentials of profitable development are to be found.

It appeals to sentiment, because the Kentuckian's characteristic pride in the achievements of the founders of the Commonwealth can find in all the long, illustrious story nothing more fit to inspire it than the part which the men of this State have played in that marvelous national drama of expansion, of which the Louisiana Purchase was a part.

How could Kentucky forego her claim to a share in the glories of a region at whose birth into the Union she stood sponsor, created a part of this household of 110-

A. Y. FORD,
President of the Kentucky Exhibit Association.

erty through her instrumentality, peopled largely by her sons, bound to her by the tenderest ties of blood and interest—all in all one of the very richest of the jewels in her crown of Statehood.

But perhaps it is more in keeping with the spirit of an occasion like this to put sentiment to the rear and business considerations to the fore. We hold that Kentucky should be at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition.

Because it has suffered inestimable injury from malicious misrepresentation; because it needs to be advertised to the world by something else besides its mountain fountains and its bitter politics; because it has been caricatured too long in the general ideal formed of it and deserves to be taken seriously. We like a joke all right, but we don't want it rubbed in too hard.

Because it is an undeveloped State, needing the good-will of investors and homeseekers and having that to offer them that will endure and repay investigation; because now is the time of times for putting ourselves right and keeping ourselves right before the business world, while this tremendous tide of material development is at its flood and men are seeking or every hand for profitable fields of activity.

Because, through ignorance of our own resources or indifference to them, through lack of enterprise in presenting information about them to those who seek it, we have suffered ourselves to be outstripped as an industrial community by states that could not compare with us in natural advantages. I know of no State that stands more in need of a protest in the name of truth than Kentucky. I know of no State that has been more persistently and unjustly maligned than Kentucky. I know of no State that has more sapinely endured such misrepresentation, recklessly giving fresh occasion for it and careless of its opportunities for displaying its better side.

I am not an apologist for that which is wrong with us, and there is much in present conditions for which we should frankly take shame to ourselves, but the very existence of such things but emphasizes the necessity that we should be up and doing in the cause of our own redemption, to the end that these early glories of the State of which we boast so much may not be dimmed and decided or its future hampered by our duty. No community more than an individual should be oversensitive to just criticism, but unchecked misrepresentation, long enough continued, makes reputation and it has made for us a reputation that has formed a barrier to the proper development of the State. It is a thing to be denied and rebuked with earnestness and dignity at every opportunity, not only as a matter of State pride but as a matter of State welfare.

In all the long roll-call of States not one important State will be missing, not one that can lay any claim to rank as an enterprising Commonwealth. Not one whose growth in wealth and population attests its energy and progressive spirit. There will be aligned the States that stand for progress, for enlightenment, for education, for leadership.

Shall Kentucky eliminate herself from such a company and say to the world that we not only repudiate the work our fathers

CHURCHES REUNITED

Important Step Taken by Presbyterian Churches.

They Have Been Separated for Over Forty Years.

After 41 years' separation, it now seems possible that the two branches of the Presbyterian church in Kentucky will be reunited into one church, with no northern and no southern Synods. Three great steps in that direction have been taken within the last few years, the last one being completed a few days ago, when the Presbyterian churches, both north and south, in Louisville united to form one corporation for the management of a hospital, and bought the Gray street infirmary.

The breach, so wide 40 years ago that it was thought it could never be closed, has now become so narrow that it is but a step from one side to another. For many years the leaders in the two branches of the church have made efforts to reconcile the differences which caused the separation, but it was not until 1901 that anything tangible was accomplished in the way of union.

During that year the first and greatest stride toward the union was made when the two Presbyterian colleges, Centre college, of the Northern church, at Danville, and Central university, the Southern college, at Richmond, were united into one college. The next step was the combination of the theological seminaries of the two churches into one to be governed by a board of trustees to be chosen from the two churches.

CHEERFUL PATIENT

Col. Proctor Much Pleased With His Treatment.

He Is a Prominent Republican of Grayson—Will Leave Hospital Soon.

Col. Z. T. Proctor, a prominent lawyer of Liechfield Ky., who had the misfortune of losing a foot in a railroad accident at Spring Lick on the 4th inst., is one of the most cheerful patients at the railroad hospital at this place.

He is getting along nicely and is loud in his praise of the attention given him by Doctors Murrell and Taylor, surgeons in charge of the hospital, and also of the excellent care given him by the efficient corps of trained nurses.

Col. Proctor is a leading republican in his part of the state and is his party's candidate for representative in the legislature from Grayson county. The only thing that appears to worry him is that he is unable to be in the field seeing his people and working for the success of the state ticket. He has no doubt of his own election as he receives scores of letters daily from friends from all parts of his county assuring him of their support and sympathizing with him for his serious mishap. He expects to be able to return to Liechfield by the last of the month.

PLAY AND PIE

Both Good, but It Isn't Wise to Make a Meal of Either.

Of course all this is going to take so much time and thought that you won't have a very wide margin left for golf—especially in the afternoons. I simply mention this in passing, because I see in the Chicago papers which have been sent me that you were among the players on the links one afternoon a fortnight ago. Golf's a nice, foolish game and there ain't any harm in it so far as I know except for the balls—the stiff balls at the beginning, the lost balls in the middle and the highballs at the end of the game. But a young fellow who wants to be a boss butcher hasn't much daylight to waste on any kind of links except sausage links.

Of course a man should have a certain amount of play, just as a boy is entitled to a piece of pie at the end of his dinner, but he don't want to make a meal of it. Any one who lets sinkers take the place of bread and meat gets bilious pretty young, and these fellows who haven't any job except to blow the old man's dollars in a good deal like the little niggers in the pie eating contest at the county fair—they've a plenty of pastry and they're attracting a heap of attention, but they've got a stomach ache coming to them by and by.—From "Letters From a Self Made Merchant to His Son," by George Horace Lorimer.

OUTING SPOTS IN THE NORTHWEST

There are many places in the country of the Northern Pacific, some inexpensive, others better and more expensive, where one can spend the summer days pleasantly and healthfully. Among these are Walker in the Leech lake country, and Detroit and Battle Lake in the Lake Park region in Minnesota; Eaton's ranch, near Medora, N. D.; Hunter's Hot Springs in the Yellowstone valley, and Missoula and the Bitter-root valley in Montana; Lakes Pend d'Oreille and Cour d'Alene, Idaho; North Yakima in Eastern Washington, and Green River Hot Springs in the Cascades; Tacoma, Seattle, Port Townsend, Port Angeles and Victoria on Puget Sound, and many places along the Columbia river and on the Pacific Ocean from Portland as a center.

Those east of the Mississippi who wish a decided change should go to the Rockies or the Puget Sound and Columbia river and sea coast country. We can only hint at these things here, but write as giving particulars as near as you can, and we will try to give you the needed information to enable you to find what you want. And don't forget that Yellowstone Park is the chief of all tourist shrines.

LAZARRE

... By ...
MARY HARTWELL CATHERWOOD

(Based Upon the Mystery Surrounding the Fate of the Dauphin, Son of Louis XVI. and Marie Antoinette)

Copyright, 1901, by the BOWEN-MERRILL COMPANY

"But everything which belonged to the royal family had been confiscated to the state. I had just seen the belongings of the royal family trampled as by cattle. First one tyrant and then another rose up to tell us what we should do, to batten himself off the wretched commonwealth, and then go to the guillotine before his successor.
As a good citizen I should have turned these jewels and stones and coins over to the state. But I was acting the part of Jacquot, and as an honest peasant I whipped them under my blouse and carried them away. In my straits of exile I never decreased them. And you may take inventory of your property and claim it when we rise from the table."

My heart came up in my throat. I reached across and caught his hands.
"You believe in me—you believe in me!"

"Do I observe any etiquette with you, Lazarre? This is the second time I have brought the fact to your notice.
I particularly wish you to note that I do not observe any etiquette with you."

"What does a boy who has been brought up among Indians know about etiquette? But you accept me or you could not put the property you have loyally and at such risk saved for my family into my hands."

"I don't accept even your uncle of Provence. The king of Spain and I prefer to call him by that modest title.
Since you died or were removed from the Temple he has taken the name of Louis XVIII. and maintained a court at the expense of the czar of Russia and the king of Spain. He is a fine Latinate, quotes Latin verse and keeps the mass bells everlastingly ringing.
The Russians laugh at his royal masses! But in my opinion the sacred gentleman is either moral shish or a very deep quack. It astounds me," said the Marquis du Plessy, "to find how many people I do disapprove of! I really require very little of the people I am obliged to meet."

He smoothed his hands, which were yet holding his, and exploded:

"The Count of Provence is an old turtled! Not exactly a reptile, for there is food in him. But of a devilish flat head and cruel snap of the jaws!"
"How can that be," I argued, "when his niece loves him so? And even I in the American woods, with mind eclipsed, was not forgotten. He sent me of the money that he was obliged to receive in charity."

"It is easy to dole-out charity money.
You are squeezing other people's purses, not your own. What I most object to in the Count of Provence is that assumption of kingly airs, provided the story of the dauphin had not died, but was an idiot in America. An idiot cannot reign. But the throne of France is not declaiming so loud for a Bourbon at present that the idiot's substitute must be proclaimed and hold a beggar's court. There are mad loyalists who swear by this eighteenth Louis. I am not one of them. In fact, Lazarre, I was rather out of tune with your house."

"Not you!" I said.

"I do not fit in these times. I ought to have gone with my king and my friends under the knife. Often I am ashamed of myself for slipping away.
That I should live to see disgusting fools in the streets of Paris after the Terror was over, young men affecting the Greek and Roman manner, greeting one another by wagging of the head! They wore gray coats with black collars, gray or green cravats, carried cudgels and decreed that all men should have the hair plaited, powdered and fastened up with a comb like themselves! The wearer of a cue was likely to be knocked on the head. These creatures used to congregate at the old Feydeau theater or meet around the entrance of the Louvre to talk classical jargon and wag!"

The Marquis du Plessy drew himself together, with a strong shudder. I had the desire to stand between him and the shocks of an alien world. Yet there

My royal mother!
was about him a tenacious masculine strength, an adroitness of self protection, which needed no champion.

"Did the Indian tell you about a man named Bellenger?" I inquired.

"Bellenger is part of the old story about the dauphin's removal. I heard of him first at Coblenz. And I understand now that he is following you with another dauphin and objecting to you in various delicate ways. Napoleon Bonaparte is master of France,
and in the way to be master of Europe,
because he has a nice sense of the values of men and the best head for detail that was ever formed in human shape.
There is something almost supernatural in his grasp of affairs. He lets nothing escape him. The only mistake he ever made was butchering the young Duke d'Enghien; the courage and clearness of the man wavered that one instant, and, by the way, he borrowed my name for the duke's incognito during the journey under arrest.
England, Russia, Austria and Sweden are combining against Napoleon. He will beat them; for while other men sleep or amuse themselves or let circumstances drive them he is planning success and providing for all possible contingencies. Take a leaf out of the general's book, my boy. No enemy is contemptible. If you want to force the hand of fortune, scheme, scheme all the time—outscheme the other fellow."

The Marquis rose from the table.
"I am longer winded," he said, "than a man named De Chaumont, who has been importuning Bonaparte in season and out of season to reinstate an American emigre, a Mme. de Ferrier."

"Will Bonaparte restore her lands?"

I asked, feeling my voice like a rope in my throat.

"Do you know her family?"

"I knew Mme. de Ferrier in America."

"Their estate lies next to mine. And what is the little De Ferrier like since she is grown?"

"Ah, ah! Bonaparte's plan will then be easy of execution. You may see her this evening here in the Faubourg St.
Germain. I believe she is to appear at Mme. de Permon's, where Bonaparte may look in."

My host bolted the doors of his private cabinet and took from the secret part of a wall cupboard the queen's jewel case. We opened it between us.

The first thing I noticed was a gold snuffbox set with portraits of the king,
the queen and their two children.

How I knew them I cannot tell.
Their pictured faces had never been put before my conscious eyes until that moment. Other portraits might have been there. I had no doubt, no hesitation.

I was on my knees before the face
I had seen in spasms of remembrance, with oval cheeks and fair hair rolled high, and open neck—my royal mother!

Next I looked at the king, heavier of feature, honest and straight gazing,
his chin held upward; at the little sister, a smaller miniature of the queen;
at the softly molded curves of the child that was myself!

The Marquis turned his back.

Before I could speak I rose and put my arms around him. He wheeled, took my hand, stood at a little distance
and kissed it.

We said not one word about the portraits, but sat down, with the jewel case again between us.

"These stones and coins are also my sister's, monsieur the Marquis?"

He lifted his eyebrows.

"I had ample opportunity, my dear boy, to turn them into the exchequer of the Count of Provence. Before his quarrel with the late czar of Russia he maintained a dozen gentlemen in waiting and perhaps as many ladies, to say nothing of priests, servants, attendants of attendants and guards.
This treasure might last him two years. If the king of Spain and his majesty of Russia got wind of it and shut off their pensions it would not last so long. I am too thrifty a Frenchman to dissipate the hoards of the state in foreign parts. Yet if you question my taste, I will not say my honesty, Lazarre!"

"I question nothing, monsieur. I ask advice."

"Eh, bien! Then do not be quite as punctilious as the gentleman who got turned out of the debtor side of the Pelagie into an alley. This will not do," says he. So around he posts to the entrance and asks for admittance again."

"Catch me knocking at Ste. Pelagie for admittance again!"

"Then my advice is to pay your tailor, if he has done his work acceptably."

"He has done it marvelously, especially in the fitting."

"A Parisian workman finds it no miracle to fit a man from his old clothes.
I took the liberty of sending your orders. Having heard my little story, you understand that you owe me nothing but your society and a careful inventory of this trust."

We were a long time examining the contents of the case. There were six bags of coin, all gold louis; many un-set gems, rings for the hand and clusters of various sorts which I knew not how to name, that blazed with a kind of white fire very dazzling. The half-crown was crusted thick with colored stones the like of which I could not have imagined in my dreams. Their names, the marquis told me, were sapphires, emeralds, rubies and large clear diamonds like beads of rain. When everything was carefully returned to place

he asked:

"Shall I still act as your banker?"

I begged him to hide the jewel box again, and he concealed it in the wall.

"We go to the Rue Ste. Croix, Lazarre, which is an impossible place for your friend Bellenger at this time. Do you dance a gavot?"

I told him I could dance the Indian corn dance, and he advised me to reserve this accomplishment.

"Bonaparte's police are keen on any scent, especially the scent of a prince.
His practical mind would reject the Temple story, if he ever heard it, and there are enough live Bourbons for him to watch."

"But there is the Count de Chammont," I suggested.

"He is not a man that would put faith in the Temple story, either, and I understand he is kindly disposed toward you."

"I lived in his house nearly a year."

"He is not a bad fellow for the new sort. I feel certain of him. He is coaxing my friendship because of ancient amity between the houses of Du Plessy and De Ferrier."

"Did you say, monsieur, that Bonaparte intends to restore Mme. de Fer-rier's lands?"

"They have been given to one of his rising officers."

"Then he will not restore them?"

"Oh, yes, with interest! His plan is to give her the officer for a husband."

CHAPTER XV.

FORGETTING—if I had ever heard—how the ancients dreaded the powers above when they had been too fortunate, I went with the marquis in high spirits to the Rue Ste. Croix. There were pots of incense sending little waves of smoke through the rooms, and the people might have peopled a dream. The men were indeed all smooth and trim, but the women had given rein to their fancies.

Our hostess was a fair and gracious woman of Greek ancestry, as Bonaparte himself was, and her daughter had been married to his favorite general, the marquis told me.

Bonaparte's youngest sister stood receiving court. She was attired like a Bacchante, with bands of fur in her hair, topped by bunches of gold grapes.
Her robe and tunic of muslin fine as air, woven in India, had bands of gold clashed with cameos under the bosom and on the arms. Each woman seemed to have planned outdoing the others in concoits which marked her own fairness.

I looked anxiously down the spacious room without seeing Mme. de Ferrier.
The simplicity which made for beauty of houses in France struck me in the white and gold paneling, and the chimney, which lifted its mass of design to the ceiling. I must have been staring at this and thinking of Mme. de Ferrier when my name was called in a flitting and excited fashion:

"Lazarre!"

There was Mme. de Chaumont in the midst of gallants and better prepared to dance a gavot than any other charmer in the room, for her gauze dress, fastened on the shoulders so that it fell not quite off her bosom, reached only to the middle of the calf.
This may have been for the protection of rosebuds with which ribbons drawn lengthwise through the skirt were fringed, but it also showed her childlike feet and ankles and made her appear tiptoe like a fairy and more remarkable than any other figure except the barefooted dame. She held a crook massed with ribbons and rosebuds in her hand, rallying the men to her standard by the lively chatter which they like better than wisdom.

Mme. Annabel gave me her hand to kiss and made room for the Marquis du Plessy and me in her circle. I felt abashed by the looks these courtiers gave me, but the marquis put them readily in the background and delighted in the poppet, taking her quite to himself.

"We hear such wonderful stories about you, Lazarre! Besides, Dr.
Chantry came to see us and told us all he knew. Remember, Lazarre belonged to us before you discovered him, monsieur the Marquis du Plessy!
He and I are Americans!"

Some women near us commented, as seemed to be the fashion in that society, with a frankness which Indians would have restrained.

"See that girl! The emperor may now imagine what his brother Jerome has done. Her father has brought her over from America to marry her, and it will need all his money to accomplish that!"

Annabel shook the rain of misty hair at the sides of her rose pink face and laughed a joyful retort.

"No wonder poor Prince Jerome had to go to America for a wife! Did you ever see such hairy faced frights as these Parisians of the empire? Lazarre fell ill looking at them. He pretends he doesn't see women, monsieur, and goes about with his coat skirts loaded with books. I used to be almost as much afraid of him as I am of you!"

"Ah, mademoiselle, I dread to enter paradise!"

"Why, monsieur?"

"The angels are afraid of me!"

"Not when you smile."

"Teach me that adorable smile of yours."

"Oh, how improving you will be to Lazarre, monsieur! He never paid me a compliment in his life. He never said anything but the truth."

"The lucky dog! What pretty things he had to say!"

Annabel laughed and shook her mist in great enjoyment. I liked to watch her, yet I wondered where Mme. de Ferrier was, and could not bring myself to inquire.

IT WAS EASY MONEY.

Paducah had no trouble finding Edwards, the crack pitcher of the Hoptown nine yesterday afternoon, but they met a regular Waterloo nevertheless. There is doubt in the minds of the local fans if Paducah can ever beat Hopkinsville, because Hopkinsville seems to be a Jonah. The reason she didn't do it yesterday, however, was because the management of the Paducah team, after Lloyd had been batted all over the field and out into the road beyond the high fence, kept him in so they could bat him some more. Even Lloyd himself, realizing that it was an off day for him was willing to quit and came in after the last ball was knocked over the fence, but he was sent back to the slab. This was characteristic of the management, however.

The score was 13 to 5 in favor of the visitors, who got three home runs, four doubles and twelve singles. They slammed the sphere around so promiscuously that the Paducah team became disgusted and apparently didn't try to play.

Center Fielder Ray, of Paducah, in the first inning, made a drive over center field fence for a home run, the first fair fly knocked over the fence by a Paducah man on these grounds this season. He was cheered and cheered, and was given the $5 promised by Colonel Dick Callisi, and several dollars and halves and other coins, by the enthusiastic spectators. It was quite a feat, and besides it was made off Edwards, who is considered one of the best pitchers in the minor leagues.

Lynsky, center fielder for the visitors, in the next inning knocked the ball over the fence in almost the same place, and later on, both Farris and Hoepel of Hopkinsville, followed suit.

NEW WAY TO EXTERMINATE COCK-ROACHES AND WATER BUGS

A woman reader writes, asking for a way to get rid of cockroaches, and we are glad to tell her that she can exterminate them completely by the use of Stearn's Electric Rat and Roach Paste. Druggists and grocers generally have this excellent article in stock, and the manufacturers are so sure that it will kill off cockroaches, water bugs, rats, mice, etc., that they offer one hundred dollars reward to any one who doesn't find it successful. If you cannot get the paste of your dealer, write direct to the Stearns' Electric Paste Co., Chicago, Ill., and on receipt of price they will forward you the goods by express prepaid. It is easy to use, and absolutely reliable. Small size, 25c.; large size, eight times the quantity, $1.00.

Mrs. T. E. Moss and Miss Laura Anderson left this morning for Kevil.
